

International Technical Rescue Symposium

November 6—10, 2008

The Albuquerque Marriott, Albuquerque, NM

ITRS is the leading forum for up to date, state-of-the-art, technical rescue information. Rescuers representing mountain, cave, fire, industrial, and swiftwater gather to discuss ways to improve safety and performance, and answer questions such as:

- What's been tested lately?
- Is that belay system reliable?
- Two-rope system or main and belay?
- Will that "xxx" hurt my rope?
- How will that new standard affect me?
- What's new in air operations?
- What do we know about that accident?

The Symposium format consists of two and a half days of peer presentations. There are no vendor displays or anyone selling T-shirts, but plenty of opportunity for you to talk to other rescuers to exchange ideas, find out what others are doing, and how they are solving problems.

ITRS encourages a free flow of information among participants. ITRS allows a maximum number of 150 attendees to keep the setting small which permits better audience participation.

To encourage quality presentations, ITRS features the Best of Show awards ballot. Have you done a presentation at ITRS? If not, you might want to think about it. You might be the next presenter to be awarded the Best Overall Presentation, Most Practical Presentation, or Best New Research!

Butch Farabee, NPS
Dinner Speaker

ITRS 2008 is hosting an evening guest speaker and dinner, please join us!

We are pleased to have for an evening speaker, Butch Farabee, well known National Park Service Ranger and author. Among other assignments, Farabee spent seven years as a SAR Ranger in Yosemite and the Grand Canyon. He participated in thousands of SAR and medical emergencies. Farabee was the agency's first Emergency Services Coordinator and retired as a Superintendent. You won't want to miss it!

ITRS 2008 Presentation Awards

To encourage and reward excellence in presentations made at ITRS, the hosts sponsor a program to acknowledge presentations which reflect excellence in three areas:

Facts and Data (rather than opinion or conclusions)

Choice of Topic (applicability to field work)

State of the Art Technical Rescue

After the final presentation, attendees will vote on the presentations based on seven categories: one award going to each category. Each winner will receive a $200 honorarium.

ASTM Fall Meeting

A meeting of the ASTM F32 Search & Rescue Standards Committee will be held following ITRS 2008 on Sunday afternoon and Monday morning at the Albuquerque Marriott.
